This period is mandatory for motions regarding an amendment of the statutes and for the dissolution of the association.

During voting, the chair of the meeting can be assigned to an electoral committee or electoral chairperson for the duration of the ballot.
2. The General Assembly constitutes a quorum regardless of the number of members present.
3. The General Assembly passes resolutions by simple majority of the valid votes cast. Abstentions do not count. For voting on an amendment of the statutes or dissolution of the association, a three-quarters majority of the valid votes cast is required. If one third of the members present who have voting rights request a secret, written ballot, this must be complied with.
4. At the end of a voting procedure, the individual who has received more than half of the valid votes cast and accepts the result of the voting is elected. If no person has received more than half of the valid votes cast, a run-off vote takes place between the two candidates who got the most votes. The individual who then gets the most votes is elected. The acceptance of the election is done orally immediately after the vote if the elected persons are present. Persons who are absent can be elected only if they have notified the Executive Board in written form, prior to the voting procedure, of their willingness to accept. The acceptance of the election of absentees is then done by written declaration given to the Executive Board.
